GT3 Cup Experience
Take to the starting grid. And drive to the limit.

The best place to experience motorsport: at the wheel.

Impressive acceleration, precise braking and extreme cornering dynamics. That's what the 911 GT3 Cup is all about. Representative of the fastest one-make championships in the world. Built for driving at the limit. And to be driven by you. Take to the starting grid with a clear goal: the optimum racing line. On the FIA-certified on-road circuit at Porsche Leipzig.

Warm-up.

Your Porsche instructor, an experienced racing professional, will prepare you step by step for the challenges of the GT3 Cup Experience. Racing suit, gloves and helmet are all provided. You then receive a driver briefing in the road-legal version – the 911 GT3. During the first few laps of the circuit, your trainer will teach you the basics required for when you later switch over to the pure-bred race car.

Start.

You're nearly ready to go: during a detailed briefing, your instructor will familiarise you with the individual control elements in the 911 GT3 Cup. For the ideal seat position and perfect use of the sequential gearbox and racing brake system.

Goal.

It's time to get serious now – as your heart rate begins to soar. You leave the pits and set off on four unforgettable stints, each lasting 15 minutes. At your side throughout and linked via intercom, your instructor is there to support and guide you with precision to your goal: your own personal limit.

After each stint, your drives can be assessed on request using data and video analysis. To help you shave off those crucial tenths of a second. And for even greater driving pleasure.

As a memento of your training course, lasting around five hours, you will receive all video recordings of your laps in digital form.

Pit stop.

Hunger for adventure, part 2: we invite you to join us for an exclusive meal at our restaurant in the Customer Centre, which offers panoramic views of the entire site.

Your entry to the world of motorsport.

The GT3 Cup Experience: the ultimate driving event. And possibly even your entry into a racing series such as the Porsche Sports Cup. Our instructors will be happy to accompany you along the way, giving you the benefit of their extensive racing expertise.
